Balancing aesthetics and functionality with Altro

Glasgow, UK

Material Source is a go-to spot for interior designers, architects and specifiers helping them explore a wealth of materials, products and finishes. The Material Source Studios aim to be both inspirational and useful, informing and celebrating the importance of materials and products.

Material Source was in need of new bathroom facilities at their Glasgow studio. They knew they wanted a sustainable collaboration, which led to the specification of Altro Whiterock wall designs and Altro Illustra.

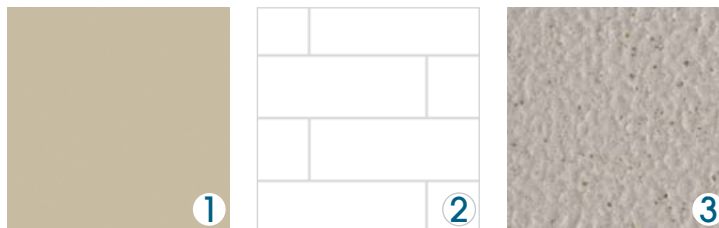

"Specifying Altro wall and floor products has added extra textural elements to the scheme, while balancing aesthetics with function." Darren Clanford, Co-founder and Creative Director, Material Source.

Additionally, Material Source wanted the bathroom to be visually appealing yet functional, while also harmonizing with the innovative, sustainable bathroom products from Woodio® and Concept Cubicle Systems.

Altro Whiterock wall designs was chosen for its natural wood, metal, stone and linen options giving an elegance to interior walls while offering the expected durability of traditional Altro Whiterock wall cladding. Altro Whiterock wall designs is perfect for general commercial areas as well as wet environments like bathrooms or spas, creating a design focal point.

Altro Illustra was selected due to its vast range of contemporary and flexible designs. This stylish, functional and design-led slip-resistant flooring has enhanced slip resistance, making it great for healthcare, senior living offices and other busy spaces.

The collaboration between Material Source and Altro resulted in visually appealing and functional bathroom that align with sustainable principles, while enhancing the overall ambiance of the Glasgow studio.
