English Spirit

Creating the best environment, to complement the finest spirits

Issue

The English Spirit Distillery is a small batch distillery that produces some of the UK's finest spirits and liqueurs and consider themselves to be England's original small batch distillers. The main building was being converted into a cafe, shop and viewing area with the working distillery as a focal point.

Approach

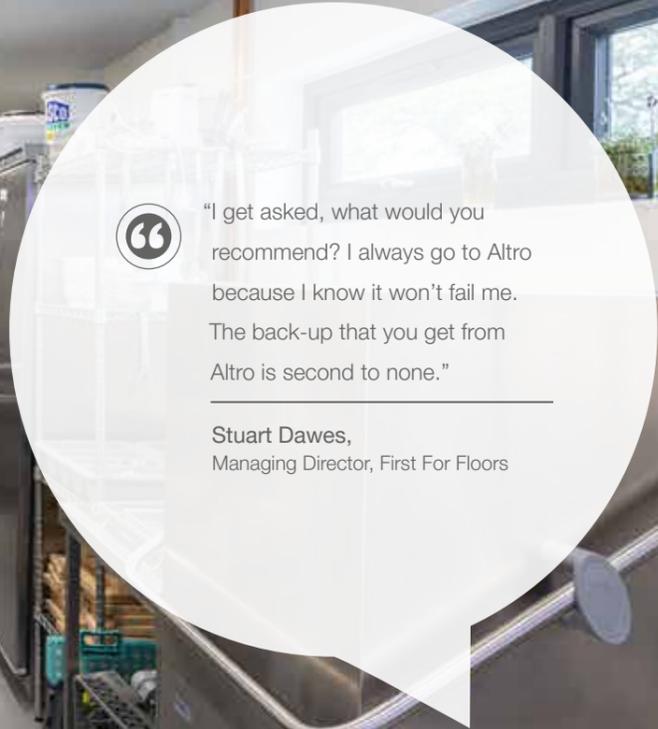

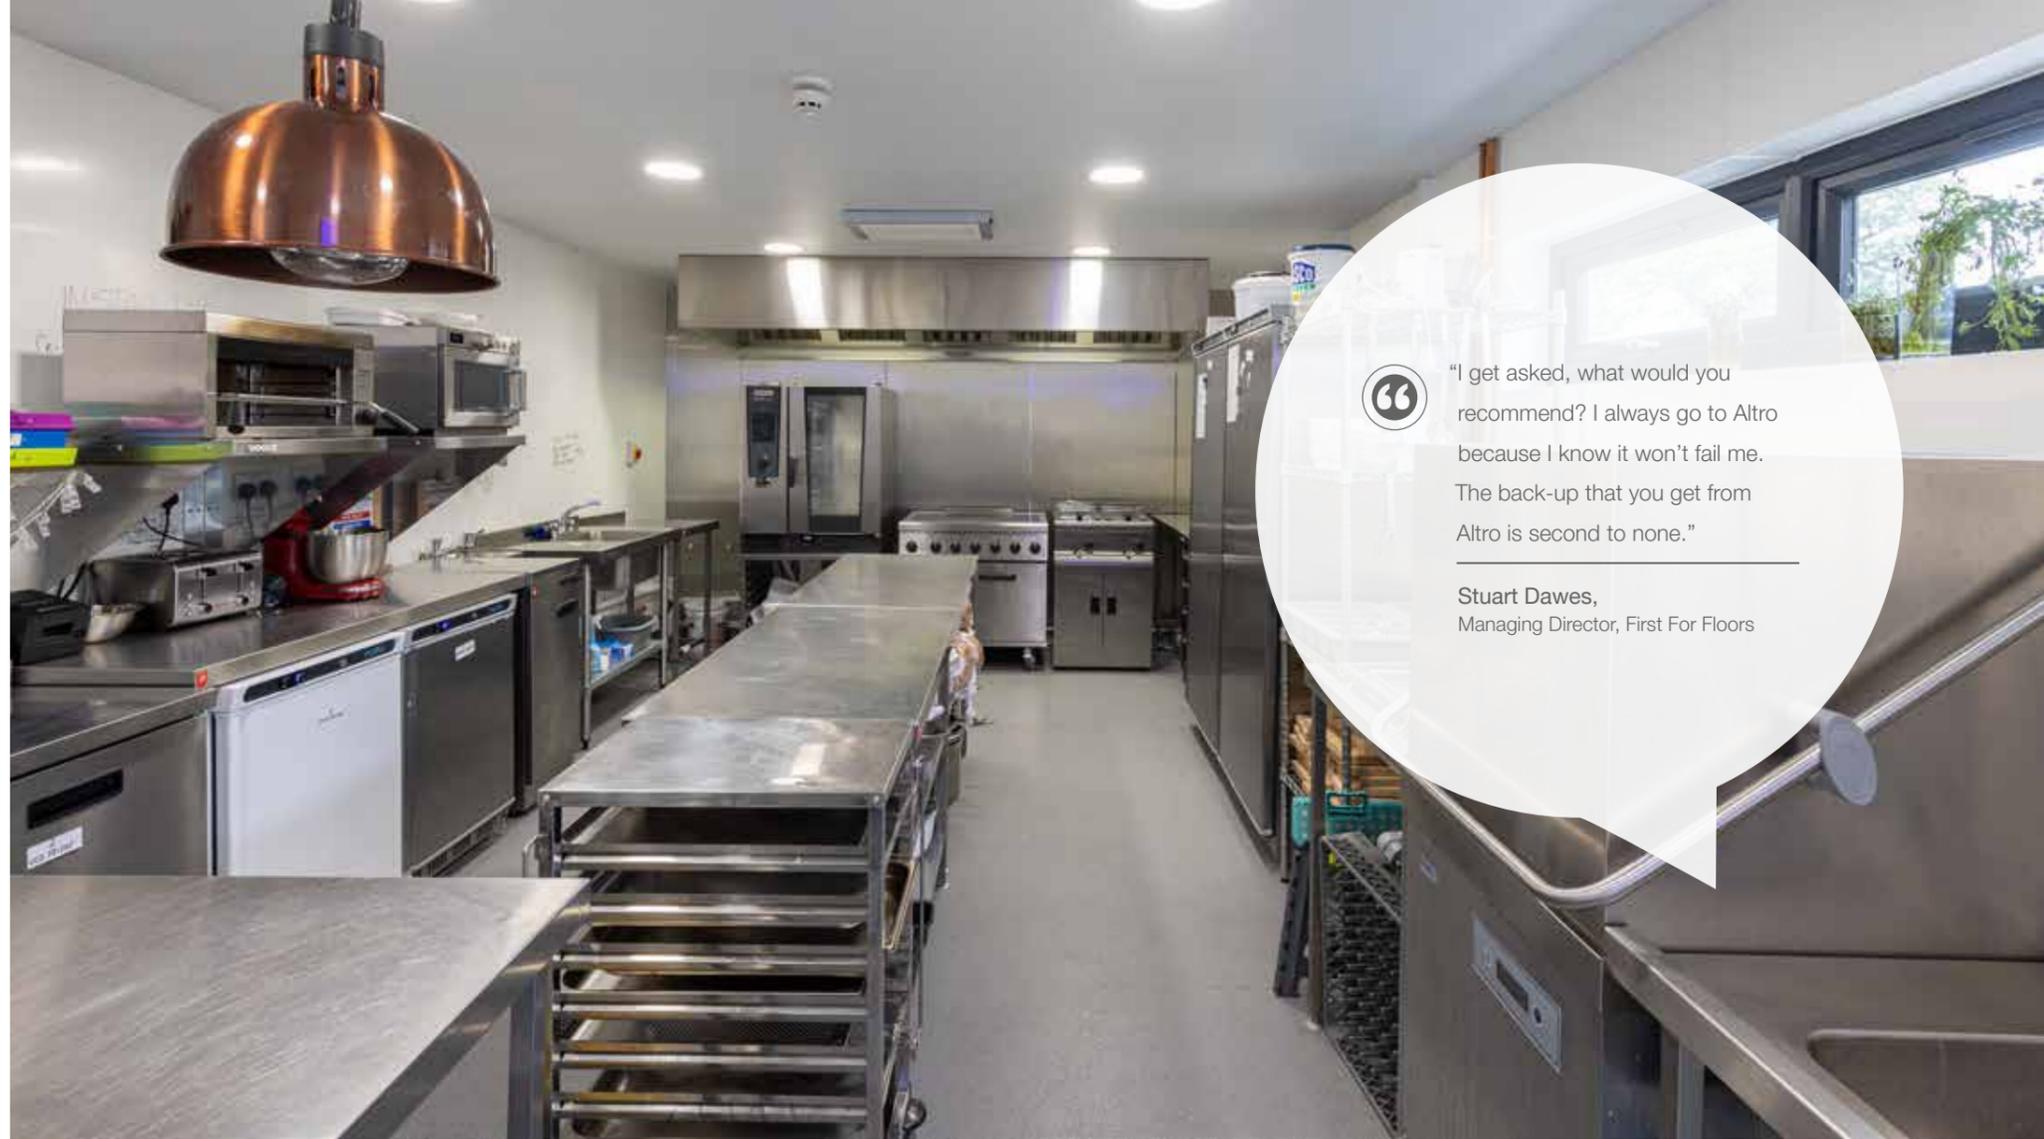

Stuart Dawes, Managing Director, First For Floors said "When I first came here it was a barn with a concrete floor. They told me what they wanted their result to be and straight away I knew that I wanted to work with Altro. We love their products and they have never failed us. We came up with products that would work well for them, and, being a barn with a lot of echoes, we knew we needed something to dampen that as much as possible without using carpet. That is where Altro Ensemble came into play, with the sound reduction, aesthetics, comfort underfoot, and its all-round durability."

Solution

Altro Ensemble was installed in the public-facing areas where first impressions count. For the toilets Altro XpressLay adhesive-free was specified bringing safety and speed of installation together with durable and elegant Altro Whiterock wall designs.

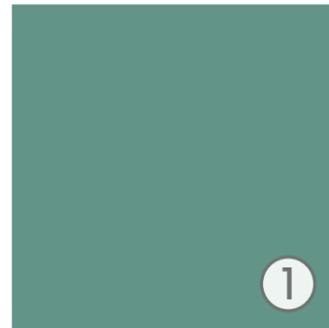

Altro Stronghold 30, designed to keep staff safe from slips, was installed in the kitchen together with hygienic, impermeable Altro Whiterock White. In the staff room and bar area, Altro Wood adhesive-free brings safety and ease of maintenance.

Altro Wood installed on the mezzanine walkway area and stairs brings a biophilic focus to the areas where daylight floods the building.

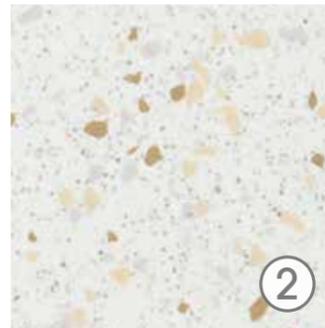

"I get asked, what would you recommend? I always go to Altro because I know it won't fail me. The back-up that you get from Altro is second to none."

Stuart Dawes,
Managing Director, First For Floors
